New Editorial Board

This first issue of 2015 is the occasion for the editorial staff to wish you all, a happy, healthy and productive new year.

We take the opportunity to thank the Editorial board members who volunteer their time to the journal and strive to efficiently manage submitted papers. We want also acknowledge all the reviewers who have contributed to the review process and did the effort to shorten the reviewing time.

Both quality and timeliness will continue to be the major goal of our editorship. We have thus decided to reinforce the Editorial board to face the increasing number of submissions and also extend the fields of expertise. It is our pleasure to welcome new board members:

- Pekka Ruotsalainen, Tampere, Finland
- Massimo Mischi, Eindhoven, Netherlands
- Brynjar Karlsson, Reykjavik, Iceland
- Angkoon Phinyomark, Calgary, Canada
- Satish, Viswanath, Cleveland, USA

- Mickaël Tanter, Paris, France
- Aparicio Conrado, Minneapolis, USA
- Frédéric Lesage, Montréal, Canada
- Cedryck Vaquette, Brisbane, Australia
- Crit Moonen, Utrecht, Netherlands
- Julien Cohen-Adad, Montreal, Canada

We are now able to announce a first special issue for this beginning year. It will address Medical Image Analysis for Computer Aided Diagnosis. The call for papers is given in this same issue [1].

Let this year provide us the way to keep improving the impact and quality of IRBM and attract high quality papers reporting innovations and creativity.
